Will you be navigating IU’s beautiful campus for the first time this Fall? Wondering how help resources work and how to feel more comfortable using them? Seeking to expand your college experience? Building those personal connections is the central focus of this course! We’ll take trips and invite guests to discover all the amazing opportunities here, help you figure out fun and useful ways to get involved in campus life, and share our experiences with each other in a warm, supportive environment. Best of all, there will be many opportunities for multicultural dialogue and forming friendships in a small group. It’s all the stuff you want to know about IU, inside and outside of the classroom, except with this class you get credit for it! Questions? Please email Anthony Guest-Scott - aguestsc@iu.edu.

EDUC-X 159 KEY STRAT FOR ACAD SUCCESS (1 CR)

Open only to students who have experienced at least one semester of Academic Probation AND who have successfully completed either EDUC-X 156, EDUC-X 156, or EDUC-X 156. EDUC-X 157 offers continued support for academic recovery, whether students are back in Good Standing, continuing the Academic Probation process, or recently reinstated. Course is co-taught by Peer Instructor who understands academic recovery! Students will use in-class journaling, as well as virtual tools and resources to help hold themselves accountable for their education. Students also complete an engagement project (getting involved with a campus organization or resource) to deepen their commitment to their educational experience at IUB.

Families are the primary context in which children develop and child disabilities are manifested. It is hard to oversaturate the role of the families as they identify child challenges, seek help to respond to those challenges, and influence child outcomes. This course will survey the primary theories that guide research on families of children with disabilities, examine the research regarding families helping-seeking decisions and subsequent child outcomes. consider the benefits and challenges of family-driven service models, and explore the ways that professional work with families effectively to maximize family and child outcomes. Measurement of family variables will also be covered.
