The goals of this course are to provide a fundamental understanding of virus structure and function, and to strengthen critical thinking skills of students. The course will examine key concepts in structural virology, focusing on the molecular mechanisms underlying viral replication. We <pre>will follow the replication cycle of viruses, including virus structure, virus attachment and cell entry, protein</pre> expression and genome replication, and assembly and release of virus particles. The content will include a combination of PowerPoint presentations and discussion of primary research papers. VT: BIOLOGICAL ELECTRON MICROSCOPY

The purpose of this course is for the student to develop an understanding of the principles of electron microscopy as applied to the study of biological macromolecules and tissues. Knowledge of these principles will form a foundation for gaining practical experience and training in biological electron microscopy. At the completion of this course, participants will have become skilled in applying some of the techniques and concepts necessary to independently initiate projects on quantitative protein unfolding/folding, protein-ligand binding, protein size distribution, protein secondary and tertiary structure, or any number of other quantitative biophysics applications.

This course is a practicum in theatre technology, in which students serve as crew for productions in the semester. They will learn about safety protocols and then be assigned to a project. The time commitment matches the duration of a show's production run, about two weeks. This will be on evenings and weekend times. CLSD	30226 PERM 03:55 P-05:10 P TR HH 2047 King K	0	0	0
	Get a taste of the real world of brand management with this hands-on practicum. You will have the opportunity to work on a real brand (preferably national) for nine weeks with teammates who offer a variety of expertise including strategy, design, and media. Students from the Kelley School of Business, The Media School, and the Eskenazi School of Art, Architecture + Design are encouraged to enroll. The team composition mimics what students will experience in their future jobs and hence, prepares them to see a business problem from a different lens and appreciate the diversity of views. Apply your skills to develop implementable strategies and tactics, bridging classroom theory with practical institutional, political, and cultural forces that impact the % \left( 1\right) =\left( 1\right) \left( 1\right lived experience of being a professional teacher. Possible key questions for reflection include: How does self-knowledge help teachers positively shape their professional lives? How does school culture shape the day-to-day life of teachers and how do you identify a school culture that is right for you?

                       How does the current emphasis on standardized testing impact the life of a teacher and how can teachers positively respond to this? What does it mean to be a role model and what are the challenges and opportunities presented by this social role? What does community mean and how are teachers participants in and facilitators of positive community?
                       Exploration of these questions will occur through student centered, hands-on, and interactive classroom activities

                       Education Career Exploration explores the career possibilities for anyone who is curious about the broad range of careers and workplaces that fall within the spectrum of education. Students will research and reflect on potential careers and discuss current topics that affect education industries. Education Career Exploration offers students an in-depth look at the wide array of careers within the education field, encompassing roles in K-12 schools, higher education, community organizations, educational technology, and more. Through research, reflection, and discussion, students will examine potential career paths and consider the different environments in which educational professionals work. They will explore relevant industry topics such as classroom management, policy, family and community engagement, and emerging technologies to gain insights into the dynamic landscape of education careers. By the end of the course, students will have a clearer sense of potential career goals and an understanding of the skills and competencies required to thrive in various educational settings.

Above class is part of the School of Education's Professional Distinction Series
In this course, students will begin to explore the personal, institutional, political, and cultural forces that impact the
lived experience of being a professional teacher. Possible
key questions for reflection include: How does self-knowledge
help teachers positively shape their professional lives? How does school culture shape the day-to-day life of teachers and how do you identify a school culture that is right for you? How does the current emphasis on standardized testing impact the life of a teacher and how can teachers positively respond
the challenges and opportunities presented by this social role? What does community mean and how are teachers participants in and facilitators of positive community?
Exploration of these questions will occur through student
centered, hands-on, and interactive classroom activities

This will be a virtual and asynchronous field experience, you will be given the opportunity to watch and analyze videos of classroom or learning activities at a time that is convenient for you. You will discuss in your concurrent I251 the analysis of the videos and learning theories and complete reflection assignments based on them To enroll in this class see EDUC-BC 251 Requires travel to off-campus field placements up to 60 miles away from the IUB campus. Students will complete 20 hours of field experience which will be arranged during your Educational Psychology class. You will need a 4 hour block during the school day (8:00 am - 3:00 pm) 1 time per week to complete the field experience

	Above class for Freshman, Sophomores, Juniors, & Seniors Above class meets for a non-standard 13-week session (Tuesday 1/14 - Thursday 4/17)
	This course is about you and how to open up your individual creative potential. Guided by your curiosity and passion, you will explore your power to innovate through a series of workshops and a culminating final project. Along the way, you will discover how creativity can go beyond the arts to open up a world of possibility in any field: from science, medicine, and business to law, education, philosophy and beyond

	Above class meets first eight weeks only For Freshmen, Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors This course is a great option for students interested in "leveling up" their emotional, mental, social, and physical resilience, as well as those interested in exploring the intersection of technology, gaming, and resilience. In addition to several in-class gaming activities, students will play SuperBetter, an evidence-based online game that is rooted in positive psychology, cognitive behavioral therapy, and game theory. No gaming experience necessary.

	TOPIC: Tackling Test Anxiety Are you dreading an upcoming test? Do you blank out or have trouble focusing every time you take a big exam? Are you frustrated because you consistently find that your scores <pre>don't match what you feel you really know? Preparing for an important professional school entrance exam - the MCAT, LSAT, etc.?</pre>
	This course is all about evidence-backed strategies for taking your anxiety level way down for any kind of test - whether that be for professional school entrance exams or finals in your most difficult courses.
	Our approach centers on how to 1) apply the science of powerful learning to better prepare for important tests; 2) create effective schedules and habits for studying so it sticks; and 3) transform the emotions that come up before, during, and after the test to achieve your performance and County agencies to investigate gaps in the emergency food relief system of the region. This project was initiated by community members in tandem with Sustaining Hoosier Communities and is part of a broader set of projects. We will research food access in both time and space as we attempt to provide county officials with necessary insights and recommendations for improving emergency food services to the region s most vulnerable residents.
